Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lemelson et al (US 5,945, 656).

1. [Claim1]: Regarding claim 1 Lemelson et al discloses a book comprising a plurality of pages, of which at least one page comprising magnetic material (e.g. scannable indicia), and at least one page comprising printed material (e.g. written text), said printed material comprising a plurality of printed ink layers comprising a plurality of magnetic ink patterns (e.g. rows and columns) organized to form a plurality of printed codes (e.g. bar codes). See Col.3: 48-64.

Lemelson et al. further discloses a reading wand unit (e.g. code scanner reader apparatus) comprising a magnetic field receiver means (e.g. magnetic pick-up head) for converting magnetic fields to a digital code, a storage means (e.g. memory storage medium) for storing data, said data organized in a database form relating codes with sound files (e.g. audio data), a processing means (e.g. processor) for searching through the database of codes to match the digital code (e.g. coded information), and audio driver means for converting sound files to analog signals (e.g. digital-to-analog converter) to drive a speaker. See Col.4:13-35, Col. 5: 24-51.
